Firm finds in-office team building still important in a remote-work world

HIGHWOOD, IL, Oct. 20, 2021 – TBF Financial has moved its headquarters to new offices equipped with features that improve the comfort, wellness and productivity of its staff, CEO Brett Boehm announced today. The company buys commercial debt and is the leading purchaser of non-performing equipment leases, commercial bank loans, online small business loans and merchant cash advances in the United States.

While still located in Chicago’s North Shore, TBF recently moved from Deerfield to 870 Sheridan Road in Highwood, Illinois.

“The world is in a unique pandemic environment where more people are working remotely. But our company has found that in-office camaraderie and networking opportunities are still important to many workers, and to our overall productivity,” Boehm said.

TBF’s new offices enhance the comfort and wellness of workers through features including powered stand-up desks, new cubicles with plexiglass dividers, fresh-air heating and air conditioning systems, and a large hangout space with tv, charging stations, phones and lunch facilities.

The company’s phone numbers, email addresses and website address have not changed.

Founded in 1998, TBF Financial pioneered commercial debt buying in the equipment leasing and finance industry. The company pays immediate cash for commercial charge-offs, buying accounts up to four years old from the date of last payment. For more information, visit tbfgroup.com.
